50 Years of Silber Windows
Innovative. Sustainable. Striking.

SILBER Slidingdoors

A blend of living space and nature is achieved with the lifting and sliding SILBER doors. Whether they are in a playful or simple form, there is always a fitting product to be found for every building style. SILBER lifting and slide doors are most impressive due to their decade long smooth movement and high levels of resistance.

SILBER doors

The blend of clear lines and reduced design using diverse materials open a huge range of ways of applications.

Dearest Readers,
Valued Customers,

We are grateful for your interest in our company and are delighted for the opportunity to use this brochure to explain the details of our products and our company. Ever since SILBER was founded in 1967, it has been a down-to-earth, family-run company, which has been passed down for three generations.

We manufacture high quality windows, doors, and lifting and sliding doors. These products all have one thing in common: wood. By using wood as a building material we are drawing on a tradition that spans over 150 years, which we continue to uphold even today with the help of the latest CAD production technology.

Around 30 experienced and dedicated employees are responsible for the production and assembly of our products across Austria.

As an international company we have completed projects in the United Arab Emirates, the USA, China, Russia, and Canada.

Our strengths lie in the high quality of our products and their striking design, as well as in the variety that we are able to offer you as the customer. We only use the highest quality of materials, such as aluminum, bronze and specially selected woods, which are primarily of Austrian origin, in the production of our natur holz windows, doors – which come in a range of styles including classic and modern – and more.

However, our production methods are nothing like those of industrial mass production, but instead mirror those of a modern workshop, in which wood working and the continuous development of all our premium products are emphasized. We have established values that future generations will be able to appreciate.

We also consider your personal requests and needs to be of the utmost importance. We specialize in individual custom solutions and believe that there is no such thing as too big of a challenge. Round or oval window designs with P4A safety glass? Not a problem! And we can in all honesty say that you will love the result.

Visit us at our headquarters in Mistelbach bei Wels and experience a variety of innovative windows and doors in our exclusive showroom.

Our Managing Directors,

Manuela Franziska Wimmer-Silber and Markus Wimmer, would be delighted to welcome you.

INDIVIDUAL — As you like it

We provide you with a wide range of technical and aesthetic window solutions as well as a wide variety of different materials to choose from. One of our featured options is the wood bronze window. On the one hand, it is characterized by the comfort and authenticity of a wooden window, and on the other hand, the bronze ensures durability and an unlimited life span. Our combination of wood and weather-resistant aluminum is also very popular. Furthermore, we have various product design lines for you to choose from, for instance the maritime style. Of course we manufacture all our windows according to your requests. What's more, during remodeling and renovation SILBER windows can be installed after the fact, without having to remove the old window frame.

Triple coated fittings boast corrosion resistance, even in coastal regions, as well as an unrivaled load capacity of up to 160 kg. The fittings are self-lubricating for the first five years and come with three way adjustability.

PRECISE — With a love for detail

SILBER doors boast a variety of appealing designs as well as high level of security. With thicknesses ranging from 82 to 102 mm, our doors are extremely robust and all of them meet the security standard RC2. Moreover, as standard they are equipped with a very effective quadruple locking mechanism. Optionally, there are other security features available like P4A class safety glass as well as a biometric system for fingerprint recognition. The highest level of security alongside innovative design, be it classic or modern, is what makes your new SILBER door a real head-turner.

We use a multi-sealing system made from extra high grade silicone for all our products. This material is used universally across our product range, because it remains permanently elastic at temperatures ranging from - 60 to 250 °C, thereby preventing drafts and keeping heating costs down.

Doors

Closed flush butt joints are the most striking feature of our SILBER products. Using this kind of wood bonding technique protects the window from getting dirty and prevents any water from seeping into the structure, thereby ensuring that SILBER doors and windows are easy to care for, long-lasting premium products.

INNOVATIVE — Always one step ahead

The lifting and sliding SILBER doors create a unique blend of living space and nature. These doors come in a wide variety of design options as well. Whether it takes the shape of a playful or perhaps a more simple form, there is always a suitable product out there for every building style. Our lifting and sliding doors have proven themselves over decades which have been characterized by their ease of use and durability. This was evidenced in our testing facility, when these doors impressively withstood wind speeds of over 200 km/hr.
